

SWISH BUILDING PRODUCTS

...PVC Roofing & Cladding Profiles

About Swish Building Products

Swish is one of the UK's leading manufacturers of cellular PVC profiles for roofline and cladding applications, with a name that is known throughout the industry for quality and service.

Swish is part of the Epwin Group, a privately owned group of companies supplying low maintenance building products to the new build, social housing and domestic refurbishment markets.

Swish cellular PVC represents an environmentally responsible use of plastics. As recommended by the European Commission, UK Government and the PVC industry's Vinyl 2010 initiative, Swish cellular PVC does not contain lead. Swish takes its environmental responsibilities very seriously. Swish has a continuous programme that monitors their production efficiency and ensures they minimise energy consumption and all forms of waste.
