The screenshot shows the website interface for Eurocell Plc. At the top, there is a navigation menu with links for Home, About Us, What's New, Products, Services, Showcases, Projects, Databases, Media, Login, and Email. The main content area features a large image of a house with a bay window, with the text 'Eurocell Plc' and a brief description below it. To the right of the main content, there is a sidebar with a list of company names under the heading 'Eurocell Plc'. Below the main content, there are several sections: 'Client Newsroom' with a 'Monodraught' article, 'Client Showcases' with 'Feature Stories' and 'Supplier Listings', and 'Client Services' with 'Marketing Plans' and 'Advertising Info'. The footer contains copyright information and contact details.

Technical Library Services is one of the world's leading marketers of building product information to architects, designers and building professionals.

We have a comprehensive understanding of the construction cycle and its impact on the architect's ability to specify products which allows us to work directly with specifiers and planners on every level.

One of our founding directors is a former member of the North American Construction Specifications Institute. Therefore if your target audience is within the UK or USA, you can be confident in our ability to successfully market your company within this potentially lucrative sector.

During the past 20 years we have developed and carefully maintained one of the largest building professional databases available anywhere. Our database includes architects, designers, engineers, consultants, contractors, surveyors, local authority planners and a wealth of other professionals.

By allowing you to access portions of our database for the purpose of distributing information about your company, you have a unique opportunity to target market sectors within specific geographical locations around the world.

Each month, we distribute thousands of newsletters, client press releases and information updates to subscribing architects and building professionals and this continual marketing activity drives over 75,000 unique visitors to our showcase site – on a monthly basis!

You will find that our client showcasing, newsletter distribution facilities and pricing structure are unbeatable within the marketplace and we provide you with a range of plans and direct marketing options to suit your strategic needs and budget.

If you would like to receive a copy of our latest Rate Card including available marketing options, or a written quotation, please contact us.
